Heavy Defalcation

CHICAGO, Aug. 17.—The papers to-morrow morning will publish the particulars of a defalcation by Charles W Angell, secretary of the Pullman Palace Car Company About three years ago his wife died, leaving two infant children This loss seemed for a time to impair his mental and physical health Lately he has gradually been recovering good spirits, but having suffered during the past winter disappointment in some social affair, it now transpires that he fell into disreputable associations. At about the usual time for his summer vacation he proposed to meet Mr Pullman in New York, and started with that avowed purpose Mr Pullman reached New York on the 7th inst., and as Mr Angell did not appear for a day or two, he became anxious regarding him, and dispatched Angell's brother to Saratoga and other places which he had intended visiting Pullman hastened home and instituted an examination This developed the fact that Angell had disappeared with funds and securities of the company The possible maximum of loss sustained is $120,000, partly in cash and partly in securities of the company which were in his custody as secretary. He representing to the company's cashier that he was sending it to the office of the company in New York and that proper vouchers would be returned, thus evading or overriding the custom of the office which required vouchers to accompany every payment of money So great was the confidence reposed in his honor and integrity, that this action created no uneasiness until his mysterious and protracted absence became the cause of suspicion

The South Carolina Revenue Cases

WASHINGTON, Aug 19 —The following telegrams explain themselves

WASHINGTON Aug 17 1878

C. L. Northrop, U. S. District Attorney Greenville S. C.: I have your dispatch in regard to Redmond and his friends and violence led directly to the killing of Ladd. I have no terms to make with him which contemplate anything but an unconditional surrender. Officers are either incarcerated or in jeopardy. I am surprised that Earl should appear for Redmond considering the fact that he had been retained by the United States to defend Kane and others whose present misfortunes are attributed to the very act which Earl would have to defend in Redmond. GREEN B. RAUM Commissioner

Wm. Earl, Special Attorney, Greenville In reply to your dispatch I will say that the apologists of Redmond show him to have been a violator of law of the most desperate character pursuing business and defrauding the government for a livelihood and shooting officers without mercy who under took his arrest. His gross misconduct ed directly to the death of Ladd I cannot consent to grant any leniency to Redmond while deputies Kane and others are incarcerated or in jeopardy. Any leniency by the state towards U S officers would seem at this juncture to be worthy . . . GREEN B RAUM Commissioner

Value of Trade Dollars.

NEW YORK, Aug 19 —The Times' Washington special says The treasury department has received a number of communications from large firms and others respecting the department's circular of July 25th relative to the value of trade dollars The writers judging from the tone of their letters belong to that class of thrifty persons who, before the department informed the public that the trade dollar was only worth its bullion value which at present rates is but 90 cents and a fraction were in the habit of buying the coins in question at a discount varying from 5 to 3 per cent and then passing them off at par This was the case in some large manufacturing establishments, where the employes have been invariably paid partly in trade dollars. Railroad companies also realize a large saving by using the trade dollar at their ticket offices and palming them off on the public at par value. It was to check this swindle that the director of the mint published his circular putting the public on guard against accepting the trade dollar for any thing more than it is worth and whether it is at an end. The holders of trade dollars are very indignant at the government for having interfered with their operations Some want to know how it is that a dollar which like the trade dollar weighs 420 grains is only worth 90 cents while the new silver dollar which weighs but 412½ grains is valued at 100 cents but is made unlimited legal tender and receivable for all . . . Others characterize the action of the government in refusing to receive the trade dollar at par as a swindle Strange to say many of the largest holders of trade dollars are national banks who have doubtless been speculating in them

KEARNEY AT INDIANAPOLIS.

The California Communist Collapses.

CHICAGO Aug 19 —The Tribune this morning says editorially that the Kearney demonstration in Indianapolis yesterday came into competition with a demonstration of welcome to the new Catholic bishop of the diocese The result furnished additional proof that the blatant communist from California can expect neither comfort nor countenance from the great body of the Catholic church The new bishop was welcomed by a vast crowd of people glad of the opportunity to show their respect for his holy office Kearney was neglected with conspicuous contempt the street procession which was to have received and escorted him to the picnic grounds numbering but 68 by actual count The Indianapolis demonstration was a significant sample of the estimate held of Kearney among western workingmen He is a failure as a sensationalist in this longitude, and ought to lose no time in returning to the open arms of the Pacific coast

The Times Indianapolis special says The great labor demonstration with the great California agitator as leading attraction was a failure There was less than a hundred persons in the procession After speeches by the lesser communistic lights Kearney mounted the platform and exploded with a great noise He recited a portion of the 2d chapter of St James with a vicious intonation, indicative of an inclination to convert his bible into a bludgeon and send some of the aforesaid capitalists to kingdom come Here followed a recital in billingsgate of the recent political campaign in California, where labor was crowned king in the battle against Democratic robbers and Republican thieves leprous bondholders who have apparently lost the lecherous qualities of piratical thieves and soulless vampires assisted by Bohemian ghouls employed by the monopolistic press to distort facts and misrepresent the workingmen The plains of California said he are strewn with the carcasses of public plunderers We did not want or ask for public sympathy nor do we want it now We want liberty and liberty we will have though the midnight skies and hell itself overflows with the corpses of the robbers Workingmen here can accomplish all that we have done in California by organizing and pooling their issues We will first pull down and then up on the ruins build up a political party that will once more raise the flag of our country over a land of liberty Kearney closed with the expression of a belief that the muttering of thunder is heard in the air that the leaves of the forest whisper to us of the desolation approaching and that when the tornado bursts over the land, perjured judges pirates and cut throats bank stock owners would have a tough time to get along on this side of the river

NEW YORK, Aug 19 —The Herald's Indianapolis special says Kearney was advertised to speak as the Patrick Henry of California, and says he is rapidly finding his level

The World says editorially If citizen Kearney were to die this week his obituary notices would not be nearly so long as they would have been had he perished on his way east

The Principal Function of Lorne.

[From the London Times]

The principal function of the governor general of Canada is to keep alive a sense of the real and intimate connection between the colonists and the mother country The colonists cannot doubt that such a connection exists when they see among them one of the princesses of the royal family of England The governor generalship opens a career to the Marquis of Lorne that may be of some compensation for the political activity from which his marriage cut him off at home He is well known intelligent cultivated, with an interest in the colonial empire of England of which he gave proof in his early travels and writings He inherits the political reputation of one of the "governing families of Great Britain and in Canada so abundantly peopled by Scottish settlers his heirship of Macallum More will count for a good deal But the most significant consequences of the Marquis of Lorne's appointment will be if we are not mistaken the effect on public opinion in Canada of its bare announcement It will be hailed we have no doubt, as the most popular act of policy that the imperial government has ever carried out since the Dominion was founded

THE POTTER INVESTIGATION

NEW YORK Aug 19 The Potter investigating committee resumed session to day Jno F Leete's apparent insanity was generally discussed His wife and children are sick with yellow fever in New Orleans which will the excitement of testifying before the committee may have caused a temporary derangement of mind A dispatch was received from Gov Kellogg in Chicago denying several statements made by Leete in his testimony saying that Leete had been for months past begging for office latterly threatening and denouncing him because he did not receive any statement from Packard and him self or leading Republicans Whoever took Leete into party councils would be received with derision in Louisiana

As Mr Horn who was expected to testify did not put in an appearance the sergeant at arms was directed to compel his attendance before the committee to morrow "

Gen Butler then called attention to his request made last week regarding the failure and refusal of Stanley Matthews to appear before the committee He now asked that the fact of his service by subpena and his failure to come before the committee be entered on the minutes and that this committee report him to the house for their action

Potter said he had lost sight of Butler's motion last week but remembered it and would sustain it now He put the resolution to the committee, and it was unanimously carried to report Senator Matthews to the house as being in contempt

There being no witnesses before the committee, an adjournment was taken till to morrow

The Crazy Potter Witness

NEW YORK Aug 18 —About 9 o clock this evening John A Leet registered at the Astor House and was assigned a room on the third floor About half an hour after going to the room the loud report of a pistol was heard from Leet's room and the crashing of a bullet through the door accompanied by loud cries from the room Several officers were summoned and burst in the door and immediately a bullet whizzed past them and the party inside slammed the door in their faces Another attempt by the officers to get in was met by another bullet but both shots fortunately missed The officers then made a combined rush and overpowered Leet before he could again fire Leet was a witness before the Potter investigating committee last week He was terribly excited and said there was a conspiracy to kill him, and he meant to kill the first man who entered the room He fired he said, in self defense He was taken to the city hall police station and locked up He swore at every one and denounced all as part of a band of conspirators In conversation with a reporter he said he was satisfied he had been shadowed for days past by a fellow who wanted to put him out of the way on account of testimony he gave before the Potter committee, as they fear he may tell some more He said he carried a private memorandum book with him containing some additional startling testimony and it was the book they were after He went in search of some one to protect him and called this morning at the Sun office to see Mr Gibson but he was not in He then got Col Pelton's address and also Manton Marble's He took a street car, but the conductor took him beyond Gramercy Park, his destination which confirmed his suppositions A visit was paid Gov Tilden but he was absent Leet then wrote the following I am pursued by assassins or poisoners and cannot find my friend "

NEW YORK Aug 19 —John F Leete was brought before Judge Flanner of the Tombs police court this morning, on a charge made by an officer of disorderly conduct and before the magistrate could interrogate him he waved his arms in a declamatory form and turning around toward the audience launched a vigorous invective in denunciation of his enemies He protested there was a conspiracy to immure him in a foul and loathsome dungeon where he could not be heard from again under form of star chamber proceedings With extravagant gesticulation he cried aloud Is there no person here to protect me?' The magistrate decided to commit him to the charge of the commissioners of charity and corrections with a view to examination

SENATOR CHAFFEE AMONG THE PROPHETS

THE COLORADO SENATOR TALKS ABOUT THE PRESIDENCY WITH . . ATH

[Saratoga Letter to Cincinnati Enquirer]

' Is Blaine an expectant of the presidential nomination in 1880?'

No I know be has no idea of it for some years to come No leading Republicans want to run next time because they would have no chance Grant excepted I can't see where the votes are to come from

"Why is Grant stronger than the civilians?

Because he might carry some of the south ern states I am pretty sure he could carry New York, too Grant has a great number of Democratic friends In New York they would make a gigantic effort for him, and take the state I don t know whether he will run He probably will if he sees his chances are good I will go into the campaign if Grant runs again and I wouldn t do it for anybody else Colorado would go for him easily

' If the Democrats are for him does that show that he has Democratic sympathies ?"

' No It is respect for sincere modest manly character. He never ran away from a persecuted man, nor quailed before a furiously silly public opinion He was no hypocrite, professor and pretender, and wasn t half appreciated until he was gone But no man in the Republican party has been from the first truer to the principles of liberty which it was organized upon That is why he springs immediately into prominence again The Republican popular heart looks all around and sees nobody else so natural as Grant to be its leader He has been as completely the Republican leader as Lincoln was His reputation as chief magistrate will cluster around that fidelity to ideas of which he became an honest convert Liberty, love of the poor

" Has Thurman not taken the principal place as the Democratic aspirant for the presidency ?

It looks so I don t know about his chances but he is the ablest member of the senate '

Do you leave out Blaine Conkling and Edmunds?

Yes Thurman has more ability than any senator of either party Bayard is very much his inferior Thurman has such splendid judgment There he excels all the senators He can arise on a question not previously studied by him and express himself thereon with a ready felicity united with an accurate judgment that has always gained my respect If there is to be a Democratic president, I can take Thurman without much whining As to his honesty it is pretty fair for a politician On that soft money question I hardly think he can be sincere I guess the old gentleman yielded there to a little clamor

Do you know Hendricks?

Yes well He has ability but he is tricky and Thurman is not He lacks has not the firmness and judgment of Thurman

Will Conkling go back to the senate from New York?

I think he will from what the Democrats here tell me There is some doubt about it, but it looks almost probable

Beaconsfield—Your highness flatters me But I am indeed glad to meet you This is a most momentous occasion The congress is pregnant with the fate of nations but all will go well We two ought to easily settle everything to our mutual satisfaction

Bismarck—Parfaitement What do I care for Andrassy He is not a German, he is a Hungarian? For Waddington? He is a conquered cipher For the Turks? Bah! For the Russians? Gott in Himmel The Russians do make me sick

Beaconsfield—Then Batoum, Bessarabia, Bulgaria the indemnity Armenia—all shall be settled according to my wishes

Bismarck—Parfaitement According to your wishes and those of Milord Salisbury

Beaconsfield—Say rather according to mine only Between you and me prince poor Salisbury doesn t count.

Bismarck—So he does not count?

Beaconsfield—Not an iota He is the fly upon the wheel

Bismarck I did think so Gott in Himmel Milord Salisbury do make me sick

Beaconsfield—We two prince, are about to regulate the universe Au revoir

(Exit Lord Beaconsfield)

Bismarck So this is the famous Disraeli Bah he is ein Kind ein kleines Kind He come to Berlin to settle the affairs of Europe! to regulate the universe I will settle him He shall be like my Lord Salisbury he shall not count Gott in Himmel Milord Beaconsfield do make me sick

(Enter Schouvaloff)

Ah! Schouvaloff tell me one thing The English are fools I know but still, how did you persuade Salisbury to sign your agreement?

Schouvaloff Rein de plus facile mon cher I have no need to tell you how bete is Milord Salisbury I put my ideas into his empty head and make him think they are his own I persuade him that the agreement which is all my work is really his own child This was enough Le jeu etait fait He was never happy till we had both signed it.

Bismarck—He is a grand imbecile But in your hands cher Schouvaloff, all diplomates Anglais are imbeciles

Schouvaloff—Prince, vous me flattez.

Bismarck—Immense imbeciles They do not know how to lie

Schouvaloff—C'est vrai It is extraordinaire but they always tell the truth

Bismarck—Diplomates who always tell the truth! Gott in Himmel! Such diplomates do make me sick

Schouvaloff—One word about business The congress of course is all betise You recollect how we have already settled everything

Bismarck—Parfaitement You will pretend to make great concessions about Bulgaria and the Balkan frontier—concessions which, between you and I could not in any case have been helped and you will receive in return so his Bessarabia Batoum You will also be allowed to keep your troops in Turkish territory for a whole year—a great deal, I need not say may happen in twelve months The congress will further leave the question of the indemnity to be paid you by the sultan to be settled hereafter between you and Turkey—this, I need hardly tell a man like you mon cher Comte, will always give you an excuse for insisting on prescribing new remedies to the sick man While the question of the Anglo protectorate of Armenia with which we have deluded ce pauvre Beaconsfield we will adjourn to the Greek Kalends C'est tout I think?

Schouvaloff—And how will you keep Milord Beaconsfield quiet

Bismarck—I have a Chinese gong in my country house at Schoenhausen, Comte, that reminds me much of Milord Beaconsfield It sounds very loud but there is nothing in it. I will give Milord Beaconsfield the sound but not the substance. He likes the first, but he is too ignorant of la grande politique to understand the second I will pay him every outward deference I will in words give away to him everything but in facts hard facts I will give him next to nothing I will keep dinning into his ear that England has achieved a magnificent success I will tell him that she has made Bulgaria end at the foot of the Balkan line, that she has restored to Turkey the Ægean sea, and that she has covered Constantinople by the Balkans All this mon Dieu, was inevitable, but I will make ce pauvre Beaconsfield believe it is all his own doing Fudii I will so choke him with sham deference and fine phrases that he will not find out till after he has left Berlin what a pretentious imbecile was Benjamin Disraeli to dare to measure himself against Otto Edouard Leopold de Bismarck Schoenhausen

Schouvaloff—Bravo! And the Turks?

Bismarck—Ma foi it is a question of the partition of Turkey and the Turks, naturellement cannot be impartial judges. I shall not allow them to open their mouths Whenever they attempt to speak I shall tell them I am in a hurry to get to Kissengen, and that I am not going to waste time listening to their imbecilities Gott in Himmel! the Turks do make me sick

Schouvaloff—Cher Prince My master will be . . . grateful

Bismarck—Pas du tout He gave me France

Schouvaloff And you gave him

Bismarck—Turkey Exeunt . . .

A Suit against Butler.

[Washington Special August 4]

Wm O Avery of whisky ring fame and his friends, are about determined to enter suit against Gen Butler to recover money advanced the latter as a fee for which he was to defend Avery in his trial at St Louis The complaint when filed will present the allegation that in New York city a few days before Avery's trial Butler was employed to go to St Louis and that $500 was advanced as a retainer fee that his railroad ticket both for passage and sleeping car were purchased and given to him that he was to have left the same evening, for St Louis but for some reason never made known to Avery or his friends he disappointed them and refused to go and it will be remembered that it was expected in St Louis that Butler would be present at the trial and that a delay of one day was secured on account of his absence

WHO SHALL BE SENATOR?

THE DALLES Aug 18 1878

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Every man in Oregon who has the progress and good name of the state at heart whether he be Democrat or Republican must feel a deep interest in the question of who is to be elected United States senator by the legislature now about to convene And every man therefore has the right to suggest the name of a person he would like to see elected and his reasons for this preference I propose with your permission, to suggest through the columns of your influential journal the name of a gentleman whom I consider well qualified in every respect for the exalted trust, and whose election would be hailed with pleasure by a great many of the good people of the state That man is Hon W W Page of your city a gentleman well fitted by education and talents to grace a seat in the United States senate and to serve the people of Oregon Added to his natural talents and his acknowledged culture, Judge Page would bring to the position a thorough acquaintance with the wishes and wants of our people having been among them from his youth—almost from his boyhood and having always taken an active part in public affairs You and other Republicans may object to him because of his uncompromising Democracy but you and other Republicans will have to take a back seat anyhow in this senatorial election except in so far as you may be able to assist in the selection of the best men from the opposite party I am not a politician and hence I do not know how to manage the caucus if I were disposed to do so but I can at any rate present the name of an able and honorable man a man who, though not the only able and honorable mentioned in connection with the office of senator is as able and honorable as the best of them

NO PARTY

CRITICISM AND CREATION

[From Macmillan's Magazine]

Lord Macaulay I take as one of the most business like of modern literary men, who could never be accused of too much enthusiasm Hear what he says in the introduction to his Essay on Dryden " The man who is best able to take a machine to pieces, and who most clearly comprehends the manner of its working will be the man most competent to form another machine of similar power In all the branches of physical and moral science which admit of perfect analysis he who can resolve will be able to combine But the analysis which criticism can effect of poetry is necessarily imperfect one element must forever elude its researches; that is the very element by which poetry is poetry It is the old story The botanist can take the flower to pieces show you the stamens pistil, calyx, corolla, and all the rest of it, but can he put them together again? Can he grasp or re create the mysterious thing which held them together and made the living flower? No the life has escaped his grasp Now this quick life this vivid impulse, this unnamable essence which makes poetry to be poetry—these, learning criticism, study reflection may kill as I said but cannot create By the flashes of uncritical genius the world has gained its finest truths When it is working at full power it leaves behind criticism and all her works At these moments when it is least conscious of itself it achieves its best results In such rapt moods the poet carried far out of the ken even of his own intelligence goes voyaging through strange seas of thought alone and overtakes new views, descries far heights of beauty and sublimity which he in his sober moments can little account for These are the far-fetches of genius, which he so much beyond its own forecast or deliberate aim that it is only long after if ever that it comes to understand what it has done This is that which is called truly inspiration When Milton flung forth these lines

How sweetly did they float upon the wings
Of silence through the empty vaulted night
At every fall smoothing the raven down
Of darkness till it smiled.'

Do you suppose he could have quite explained his imagery If we could call up Shakespeare and place before him the various theories about Hamlet, do you think he would own any one of them as his own? Would he not rather tell you with a smile that those clever fellows, the critics knew far better than him self the thing that he meant to do?

A BAD PRECEDENT

A RAILROAD GRAB AT PUBLIC MONEY—A LITTLE JOB OF FIVE MILLION DOLLARS.

[Washington Special August 8.]

A bad precedent and one that will cost the government $5 000,000, has been established in the appropriation of money in the sundry bill to pay a claim brought by the Richmond & Danville railroad against the government The history of this case has been developed by the recent payment by the treasury of the money claimed by the railroad company some seventeen thousand odd dollars The history of this claim is merely proof of what persistency will do regardless of a question of merit During the war congress passed a law giving railroads two cents a mile for the transportation of troops It appears that the Richmond & Danville rates were four cents a mile and they have, since the war brought a claim against the government for the transportation of troops, asking for the difference between the rate allowed by law and the rate which they were charging to private individuals They held in their argument of the case before the department that the government had no right to force a road to transport troops at anything less than regular rates This claim has been pending before the department ever since the close of the war It was first submitted to the quartermaster general Meigs He rejected it at once When he went away to Europe Rufus Ingalls succeeded him and he allowed the claim Secretary Belknap also approved it When Don Cameron came in as secretary of war he looked up the case and found that Stanton had rejected it and that no officials except Ingalls and Belknap had approved it He had the case held up It came before the treasury department last year Solicitor Raynor wrote an opinion in favor of its payment and Sherman vetoed his opinion Then the case went before congress and through the influence of certain members it was incorporated in the sundry civil bill and passed It established a precedent which will enable all other roads which transported troops to bring claims against the government for the difference between the rate allowed and their local rates The payment of this difference will make a loss to the government of between four and five millions of dollars

MURDERS NEAR STEIN'S MOUNTAIN.

R Dixon, brother of T. Dixon, who was recently murdered by the Indians near Stein's mountain, furnishes the Pendleton Independent with the following particulars of his brother's death

At the time of the Indian outbreak, he was encamped on Gumbo creek and was cooking supper when Pete French came by running from the Indians with a wounded man on his horse behind him Tom gave the wounded man the only horse he had caught at the time, and they passed on while Mr Dixon and those with him proceeded to catch up their horses which were loose at the time and followed after, leaving their wagons and contents behind This was about dusk, and traveling with all haste, they arrived at Cataloe's by about 7 o clock, 40 miles distant. The next day, but one, Mr Dixon, Mr Higginson Mr. Shirk and three others left Cataloe's. The three former for their wagons and the latter for Camp Harney. They passed by their wagons, and finding them all right, went on to or near Diamond ranch where they stopped for the night. The next morning seeing no signs of Indians, the three men for Harney went on, and the other three returned to their wagons and harnessing up, proceeded on their return. Prior to their arrival at the wagons, they saw fresh pony tracks, which gave them some uneasiness, and Shirk, as soon as they were hitched up, not having a wagon, got on his horse and rode ahead. When he got to the top of the hill south of Pea ranch he dismounted, and with his glasses plainly saw the other two men coming behind with their teams all right. He had just started down the hill when three shots were fired in rapid succession, and the bullets whizzed past his head, one so close as to nearly unhorse him and caused him to drop his revolver Being well mounted, he urged his horse to its utmost speed while the three devils continued the chase for eight miles, he only escaping by the superior speed and endurance of his horse. Arriving at Cataloe's they caught up fresh horses, and he and two other men returned to the assistance of Dixon and Higginson. They went as far as Pea ranch, and were near where the boys were killed, but did not find them. They climbed a hill to look for them, and on looking back, saw the Pea ranch in flames with the Indians dancing about it, and considering their numbers, they concluded to return home Several days afterward they mustered a sufficient number and went and found them as expected—killed. Higginson was shot through the head and instantly killed in his wagon. Tom had evidently jumped out, and was making for the brush, some thirty steps away, when he fell, shot in the body from the back. Both men were robbed and scalped but otherwise not mutilated.

TUESDAY MORNING AUGUST 20 1878

GOOD TIMES COMING

Edward Atkinson of Boston well known as a writer on industrial and commercial science and financial economy in a recent paper declares that the elements of well being and prosperity never before existed in such vigor and amplitude as at the present time, and that even mistakes of legislation cannot long neutralize or prevent the beneficent operation of these elements It is not difficult to conjecture what laws he has in view when he refers to bad legislation as the great influence for evil which the happy conditions of the land have to overcome and even those who refuse to see evil in those laws may derive encouragement from the conviction of so sagacious and careful an observer that the elements of American prosperity are so strong and abundant as to counteract and overpower all adverse forces It certainly is a fact that apart from the natural resources and productivity of the country the conditions preliminary to better times were never more auspicious than they are just now In despite of all foolish financial laws, the credit of the country is daily growing better, and the products of American industry which find a foreign market are continually increasing This increase is, of course, greatly the result of the incomparable development of machinery in this country with the consequent cheapening of the commodities produced Herein we have a result which is exclusively due to the peculiar energy of the people, to that unwearied industry which gradually overcomes the injurious effects of injudicious or mischievous legislation Another argument which justifies the conviction that better times are coming and have indeed begun is the extraordinary facility of intercourse between different sections of the country, the swift and uninterrupted commercial circulation of the interior Twenty years ago the transportation of a hundred weight of wheat from Chicago to New York cost almost its value. It now costs nine cents, while until within a few years we of the Pacific slope had no certainty of finding a way of exporting our agricultural products to a sure foreign market. Now for the first time this advantage attains its full importance in connection with other favorable preliminaries of permanent prosperity. Of particular value with reference to the stability of better times coming is believed to be the distribution of labor which is being effected by reason of the hard times through which the country has been passing. Great numbers of laborers have been and are still being transferred from places and occupations in which they found no steady employment and are becoming cultivators of the soil Thousands have left San Francisco and other principal cities within the past year, large numbers of whom are going upon the public domain, while many of those who are still "hanging on" around the cities are the incorrigible idlers and loafers of whom nothing is to be expected and whose penury is mostly their own choice. The importance of rightly distributing labor, of avoiding its undue accumulation where not really needed, is so well understood at present, that there seems to be no part of the country in which the public intelligence does not exert some influence upon the movement of population We may therefore trust that the old mistake will be in some degree avoided in future, the mistake which has caused so much want and suffering, the mistake of crowding multitudes into places without the certainty of permanent occupation. With so many vast tracts of uncultivated territory, this country is still far from the condition under which idleness scarcity and suffering are the necessary heritage of many persons able and willing to work.

OUR NAVY.

Perhaps it would be more accurate to say our alleged navy The list of vessels does, in deed, foot up 117, quite a respectable number, and they carry nominally upward of 1,000 guns. But the New York Times shows that if we deduct from this list the ships unfinished, those undergoing repair, those not worth repair, the school ships, and the store-ships, we come down to only 43 vessels, with 245 guns, and an aggregate displacement, in round numbers, of 80,000 tons Of these, only 16 are iron-clads. The rest are all wooden vessels, not one of them being of the first rate And the few iron-clads are all relics of the rebellion, and cannot bear comparison with any of the modern plated vessels of European nations. Heretofore, says the Times, we should hardly have accounted Italy our superior on the seas. Yet she has 16 iron-clads; some of them armored from 12 to 22 inches thick, and carrying 100 ton guns, utterly dwarfing the 20-ton guns with which our monitors once astonished the world. We have no naval strength comparable to that of Italy, Russia, Denmark, Spain, The Netherlands or even bankrupt Turkey; hence no comparison with the navies of first rate powers like France and England need be attempted. But on account of our geographical isolation we don t need much of a navy, and really we have no navy to show for the hundreds of millions we have expended nominally to create and maintain one The farce then, might about as well be abandoned. Our system of politics will not allow, our government to accomplish much in any pursuit or object which requires a steady purpose and scientific knowledge Under such system mere politicians who know nothing whatever of the affairs to which they are called are always at the head of the important departments We have no right therefore to expect anything.

We don t think there has been a better suggestion on the financial question than that made by a Virginia newspaper, which brings forward a plan superior to that of any of the greenbackers It says "Let congress remonetize all the confederate money in the country. There is hardly one of us that hasn t got some of it laid away, as a keepsake, and this advanced to the dignity of greenbacks would not only increase the currency several hundred millions, but would bring real relief to thousands who deserve it The north too would not complain as there are millions of confederate notes held there as relics of the war." This is the simplest way yet proposed to provide the country with abundance of "fiat money." Strange there should be so much imbecility in congress that no one in that body should yet have suggested it

Rains and blight have taken off twenty five per cent of the wheat crop of Minnesota and graded most of the balance down to No 2 and 3. Minnesota is a great wheat country when seasons are favorable; but for sure crops of wheat of a quality not equalled elsewhere the great Columbia valley bears the palm And when, a few years hence its yield of wheat shall exceed that of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa combined and it becomes known that no wheat of equal quality is grown elsewhere that rains never destroy crops and that [illegible] the [illegible] valley will be [illegible] as the [illegible] region of America [illegible] of the world

A communication from Wm H Watkinds to the Roseburg Star published in that paper last week repeats and particularizes certain charges against Governor Chadwick It is a remarkably [illegible] production and is likely to attract considerable attention [illegible] on account of its subject matter [illegible] of what is understood to be an unpleasantness of rather an ugly nature within the Democratic party of Oregon

Analysis of the great register of San Francisco shows that the native voters number 16,618 and the foreign born voters 1[illegible] Of the foreign born just 10 000 are natives of Ireland and 5 030 are natives of Germany The total registered vote of the city is 3[illegible] 915 The vote for president in 18[illegible] was nearly 12 000 much of which undoubtedly was fraudulent

LOOKOUT MOUNTAIN

GEN JOE HOOKER TAKES A HUMOROUS VIEW OF GRANT S ASSERTION

Gen Grant having asserted that the great fight above the clouds at Lookout was a mere romance no such battle having been fought Gen Hooker, the hero of the affair was captured at Saratoga and compelled to own up

Gen Hooker—(Rubbing his forehead with his left hand) —Lookout Mountain? Look out—Lookout—I think I have heard the name before, but not in connection with any battle

Interviewer—This was in 1863 general toward the last of the war when Gen Grant—

Gen Hooker—War? What war?

Interviewer—War of the rebellion general

Gen Hooker—Never heard of it

Interviewer—Why the war between the government and the confederates And this was at Chattanooga just after you and Sherman joined Gen Grant—

Gen Hooker—Gen. Grant, I think I have heard of the gentleman, but nothing authentic There were some little misunderstandings abroad in the land, young man, along in 1862 3, but there was no fighting, no fighting, nothing to speak of. The stories about those battles were all concocted by the newspaper correspondents. There was in fact, no war and all these romances of Greeley's and Headley's and the rest were gotten up to sell Have heard something about one Gen Grant but he is doubtless a myth like the old story of Capt John Smith and Pocahontas

Then you deny the story about the battle of Lookout Mountain?

Gen Hooker—It was all a hoax There was no battle of Mission Ridge, and the existence of Chattanooga even is in doubt. All these stories and the so called histories concerning Thomas Sheridan, Sherman and Grant at Mission Ridge are nothing but pretty fables As to the storming of Lookout Mountain, I assure you, sir there is no such place I was never there, and know nothing about any such event

An Additional Reason.

[From the San Francisco Call]

The New York Times states a reason, additional to that of thievery among the Indian agents to account for the recent outbreaks The delay in passing the Indian appropriation bill prevented the dusky wards of the government from receiving their supplies as early as usual It has been the custom to forward these supplies early in the spring, as soon as navigation opens in the west This year however, notwithstanding the frequent remonstrances of the secretary of the interior, the bill did not become a law until May 27 Advertisements for proposals for supplies were published next day, May 28, and as soon as the statute permitted the bids were opened This was on June 15, and the bids examined related to about $2,750 000 worth of goods As rapidly as was consistent with safety, bids were accepted and contracts awarded But months had elapsed and the Indians were without the usual supplies, except in cases where temporary expedients could tide over the difficulty. The interior department is forbidden to make contracts for Indian goods except under certain restrictions, and it is forbidden to incur liabilities beyond the amount authorized by congress On account of the failure to meet the wants of the Indians in the usual manner there was great suffering and discontent

A Sigh of Regret.

[From the Washington Post Dem]

Senator Bruce lived in Missouri before he became the property of the Republican party and was as well conditioned and well cared for as a thousand dollar bill for which he stood as a synonym When Fremont began to shoot off his emancipation proclamations at the rate of two or three a day Bruce s master took him on a southern trip for the benefit of his health After the war he floated back to Mississippi and became a planter and tax collector. Being the best looking negro in the state he was voted into the senate to stand as a representative of the race

Tilden's Iron Jaw

[From the Chicago Times]

The publication by Mr Manton Marble reveals Mr Samuel J Tilden in a new character to the country He must now be considered the Man with the Iron Jaw Rather than break the silence—rather than say one word which his party might hear and follow, he firmly held his peace and let thieves steal the presidency from him and give it to a man of mush who was not elected. Mr Tilden's Iron Jaw has been as fatal to him as if he had had the lock jaw

Tilden as an Astute Politician.

[From the Pittsburg Telegraph

People, and especially Democrats, who disbelieve that Mr Samuel J Tilden is an astute politician, simply deceive themselves He intends to have the Democratic nomination in 1880 and he has just made his first decisive move in that direction.

Beale, an ex confederate brigadier, has been nominated by the Democrats of the First Virginia district to succeed Mr Beverly Douglas, who acquired notoriety at the last session of congress, it is said by an excessively eccentric disregard of the sensitive feelings of the "Mrs R B. Hayes Temperance society"

There are now about 75,000 miles of completed railroads in operation in the United States and in Europe about 89 000 Illinois has about 7 000 miles, which is more than any other state has, Pennsylvania (5 500 miles) being second, New York (5 400 miles) being third and Ohio (4 400 miles) fourth

THE ASSESSOR'S ROLL —County Assessor Barnard has just completed the listing of taxable property in Multnomah county for 1878, and on Monday next the county court with the clerk will sit as a board of equalization to examine and correct the same The assessor informs us that, notwithstanding very generally circulated notices by him, a great many property owners neglected to return a list of their property as required by law and we have no doubt that a good many will find when they come to look at the roll, that indebtedness which they might have had deducted had they paid any attention to the matter in time is not so deducted, and unless the board sees fit to make the corrections a great many will have to pay more than is necessary or than they would had they been more prompt in making their returns to the assessor, who is not supposed to be omniscient in the matter of private individuals' debts There is always some growling at an assessor's work, but it is expected that the murmurings this year will be more numerous than usual, as there was more than the usual neglect in making the proper returns to the assessor People who have more tax to pay than they have unencumbered property, generally have their own inattention to blame for it. We have no means of knowing what course the board of equalization will take in the matter of claims made before them for reductions on account of indebtedness.

WEST SIDE RAILWAY.—A communication from Mr Kohler the manager for the German shareholders who is on his way here from Germany, states that an arrangement has now been completed to make the present railway through to the junction with the east side railway about eighty miles from the present terminus at St. Joe. The company will commence building the railway this fall and push the work as rapidly as possible This will open up a fine agricultural country of good land, and of great extent, on each side of the railway the whole of the produce of which extending as far south as Roseburg, will be brought direct to Portland, as well as a large passenger traffic. This will be a great advantage as all produce brought from the whole length of the valley can be unloaded into the ships or wharves at once, thereby saving much expense in labor, cartage, &c. It will likewise cause a great portion of Couch's lake to be filled in, particularly as it is contemplated to remove the east side railway repairing shops to that locality. This circumstance will greatly improve the neighborhood of the lake and the wharves, as well as increase the value of property in that locality.

MR. SMITH'S NEW BUILDING.—Work on the foundation of Hon. J. S Smith s new brick building, at the corner of Front and Washington streets, is being pushed rapidly forward by the contractors, Messrs. McCullough & Martin The foundation for the first store building—50 by 100 feet—will be finished first, so as to enable the brick masons to commence work as early as possible. This portion of the foundation will soon be completed, and before ten days the ring of trowels will be heard. The lot which is situated north of the new building—between the proposed structure and Pittock's block—and, which is covered by an old wooden house, belongs to Capt L. M. Starr. Mr Smith has been negotiating for purchase of it with the object of erecting a brick building, but the purchase price has not been agreed upon However, the contractors—Messrs. McCullough & Martin—will build the foundation wall on the river side for the remaining 50 feet The foundation for these buildings will be built up to a height level with the sidewalks on Front street and for massiveness and durability will be inferior to none in the city

CHOIR AT TRINITY CHURCH —The music rendered last evening at Trinity church was certainly most enjoyable and one of the very attractive features of the service Under the leadership of Mr Kinross a choir of excellent voices have been brought together whose combined and individual effect is to make a most satisfying whole The Te Deum was most impressive, the solos of Mrs Corbett and Messrs Franklin and Kinross being sustained admirably In the beautiful trio by Mrs Kinross and the two above named gentlemen the effect was equally pleasing Miss Cora Pack ard, the organist displayed unusual ability and also taste To the hearer the satisfaction obtained was such that the whole service was made truly impressive by the appropriateness and feeling with which the music was rendered The choir is composed of the following persons W H Kinross, leader, A A. Franklin, tenor, Geo Buchanan and Geo F Withington basso Mrs E Corbett and Miss Frankie Stump soprano Mrs. W H Kinross and Mrs Geo. E Withington alto Miss Cora Packard organist.

BALKY TEAMS —Almost every day there is a quiet sort of a sensation to report at the Stark street ferry landing Yesterday we had two One was a balky yoke of oxen which refused to draw a load of hay up the long steep grade and came very near backing down into the river After smashing up the tongue of the wagon and performing other fantastic tricks [illegible] angels weep half as much as the driver to swear a span of horses was sent for and the load was [illegible] up the grade in a trice Early yesterday morning a span of horses attached to a load of cordwood refused to press [illegible] balked [illegible] By the [illegible] strong Saxon and the vigorous application of a whip the team was persuaded to pull the load

DE[illegible] Thursday evening a special meeting of the [illegible] delegates of the Portland Fire Department was held at which time [illegible] Willamette Engine [illegible] was [illegible] second assistant [illegible] Mr Spe[illegible] vice W J A[illegible] resigned the board will have to [illegible]

CITY.

CLAIMS THE CREDIT —Wm Smith a b[lack]... black in this city who resides on the river ... of Fourth and Caruthers streets claims to be entitled to the credit of having caused the arrest of Jackson Grant the Indian who is now in the city jail on a charge of murder. Smith says that Grant was at his (Smith's) house on the morning of the day on which Dennis Spellen is supposed to have been murdered, that he had with him a double barrel shotgun Grant told Smith that he was going out to have a hunt Smith told Grant if he got any game to come back to the city and he would buy it Grant went away, but did not return for several days After he came back Smith and he had a talk when the former had occasion to mention the murder of Spellen Grant seemed very uneasy and acted in such a manner as to arouse Smith's suspicions when the murder was alluded to Smith told his wife to question Grant about the matter and if possible to draw the truth from him This Mrs Smith did and succeeded in inducing Grant to confess the murder. He said he had killed Dennis Spellen by shooting him in the back his object being to get possession of the money belonging to the man Grant admitted he only obtained $15 Smith says he could scarcely believe that Grant had committed the fearful deed and took no steps to have him arrested. Soon after Grant's wife visited Smith's family and she too said that her husband had confessed the crime to her and had given her a portion of the money taken from Spellen When Grant visited Smith's house after he escaped from Gervais he (Smith) informed the police of the fugitive's whereabouts and made a charge against him Smith claims the credit if any is due, and he proposes to claim the reward offered for the arrest and conviction of the murderer of Spellen.

THE ASSESSOR'S ROLL —County Assessor Burkhard has just completed the listing of taxable property in Multnomah county for 1878, and on Monday next the county court with the clerk, will sit as a board of equalization to examine and correct the same. The assessor informs us that, notwithstanding very generally circulated notices by him, a great many property owners neglected to return a list of their property as required by law, and we have no doubt that a good many will find when they come to look at the roll that indebtedness which they might have had deducted had they paid any attention to the matter in time is not so deducted, and unless the board sees fit to make the corrections, a great many will have to pay more than is necessary or than they would had they been more prompt in making their returns to the assessor, who is not supposed to be omniscient in the matter of private individuals' debts There is always some growling at an assessor's work but it is expected that the murmurs this year will be more numerous than usual, as there was more than the usual neglect in making the proper returns to the assessor People who have more tax to pay than they have encumbered property, generally have their own inattention to blame for it We have no means of knowing what course the board of equalization will take in the matter of claims made before them for reductions on account of indebtedness.

WEST SIDE RAILWAY.—A communication from Mr. Kohler the manager for the German shareholders, who is on his way here from Germany, states that an arrangement has been completed to make the present survey through to the junction with the Oregon railway, about eighty miles from the present terminus at St. Joe. The company will commence building the railway ... and push the work as rapidly as possible. This will open up a fine agricultural country of good and, and of great extent, on each side of the railway the whole of the produce of which, extending as far south as Roseburg, will be brought direct to Portland, as well as a large passenger traffic This will be a great advantage, as all produce brought from the whole length of the valley can be unloaded into the ships or wharves at once, thereby saving much expense in labor, cartage ... It will likewise cause a great portion of Couch's lake to be filled in, particularly as it is contemplated to remove the east side railway repairing shops to that locality This circumstance will greatly improve the neighborhood of the lake and the wharves, as well as increase the value of property in that locality.

MR. SMITH'S NEW BUILDING —Work on the foundation of Hon. J. S Smith's new brick building at the corner of Front and Washington streets, is being pushed rapidly forward by the contractors, Messrs. McCullough & Martin. The foundation for the first store building—50 by 100 feet—will be finished first so as to enable the brick masons to commence work as early as possible. This portion of the foundation will soon be completed, and before ten days the ring of trowels will be heard. The lot which is situated north of the new building—between the proposed structure and Pittock's block—and which is covered by an old wooden house, belongs to Capt. L. M. Starr Mr Smith has been negotiating for purchase of it with the object of erecting a brick building, but the purchase price has not been agreed upon. Likewise the contractors—Messrs McCullough & Martin—will build the foundation wall on the river side for the remaining 50 feet. The foundation for these buildings will be built up to a height level with the sidewalks on Front street and for massiveness and durability will be inferior to none in the city.

CHOIR AT TRINITY CHURCH —The music rendered last evening at Trinity church was certainly most enjoyable and one of the very attractive features of the service Under the leadership of Mr Kinross, a choir of excellent voices have been brought together whose combined and individual effect is to make a most satisfying whole The Te Deum was most impressive, the solos of Mrs. Corbett and Messrs Franklin and Kinross being sustained admirably. In the beautiful trio by Mrs Kinross and the two above named gentlemen the effect was equally pleasing Miss Cora Packard, the organist, displayed unusual ability and also taste. To the hearer the satisfaction obtained was such that the whole service was made truly impressive by the appropriateness and feeling with which the music was rendered. The choir is composed of the following persons W H Kinross leader, A. E. Franklin, tenor, Geo. Buchanan and Geo. E Withington, basso, Mrs E Corbett and Mrs Frankie Stump, soprano Mrs. W. H. Kinross and Mrs. Geo. E Withington, alto, Miss Cora Packard, organist

BALKY TEAMS —Almost every day there is a quiet sort of a sensation to report at the Stark street ferry landing Yesterday we had two. One was a balky yoke of oxen which refused to draw a load of hay up the long steep grade, and came very near backing down into the river After smashing up the tongue of the wagon, and performing other fantastic tricks which did not make the angels weep half as much as the driver to swear, a span of horses was sent for and the load was "snaked" up the grade in a trice Early yesterday morning a span of horses attached to a load of cordwood, refused to press against the collars and a lively time ensued. By dint of strong Saxon and the vigorous application of a whip the team was "persuaded" to pull the load up

DECLINED.—Last Thursday evening a special meeting of the board of delegates of the Portland fire department was held at which time Mr M F Spencer of Willamette Engine Company No 1 was chosen second assistant engineer vice W J Algeo resigned Mr Spencer we learn, declines to serve and the board will have to try again

PAINFUL ACCIDENT —While engaged in a game of cricket in East Portland last Saturday afternoon Mr W L Black had the misfortune to be struck in the left eye by the ball. The flesh just below the eye was cut quite deeply, but the optic luckily escaped without injury The wound will occasion Mr. Black considerable pain

G. A. R.—Post No 1, Grand Army of the Republic, will hereafter meet on Tuesday evenings at Nonpareil Hall at the corner of First and Madison streets

OLD STUMPS —If any one is incredulous as to the statement that a dense forest once stood on the site now occupied by the business portion of Portland he or she has only to visit Third street between Alder and Washington, and take a look at the improvements in progress there Third street is being graded down preparatory to receiving the macadam In the work of grading the men were compelled to cut away great number of old stumps and roots—the only remains of a dense forest

FIRE —At an early hour last evening the western horizon was illuminated by a fire which was raging in the timber several miles from the city Great columns of smoke rolled heavenward, and at times the flames could almost be seen We were unable to learn whether a building was on fire or the timber

RUMORED OPPOSITION —A contemporary says We hear it rumored on our streets to day that the steamship Olympia will carry passengers to Victoria on her next trip for $1 apiece It is also stated that the City of Chester will shortly be placed on the Sound route in opposition to the California

PRELIMINARY HEARING —N J Hammel the man who is charged by the coroner's jury with having shot and killed Henry McLaughlin at the Terminus saloon last Thursday night, is still in jail He will have a preliminary examination before Justice Bybee to day at 10 o'clock A M

TEACHER ARRIVED —The headmaster of the Bishop Scott Grammar School—Prof Joseph W Hill—arrived in Portland yesterday by the Oregon Mr Miner is on the Great Republic and will arrive to day The school will open according to announcement on the 3d of September

TO BE EXAMINED.—Jackson Grant, the Indian who was arrested last Saturday morning charged with the murder of Dennis Spellen, will have a preliminary hearing to morrow afternoon before Justice Bybee The examination will commence at 1 o clock

The yellow fever is not as discriminating as could be wished Instead of cleaning out the Louisiana politicians, who are probably fortified against any form of vomit, the fever blindly attacks the laborers upon the great national improvement at the jetties and drives them to New Orleans, while the vagrant channel wanders at will and sand bars grow apace

A REBUKE

By the Judges to Albert Weber for publishing a falsehood:

"WE, THE UNDERSIGNED members of the Jury of Group XXV at the Centennial Exhibition, Philadelphia 1876 do hereby certify that the following is the true basis of our recommendation for the award to Mr Albert Weber, of New York viz.

"For sympathetic pure and rich tone combined with greatest power as shown in a grand Piano of large dimensions These three styles grand square and upright pianos show intelligence and solidity in their construction a pliant and easy touch which at the same time answers promptly to its requirements together with excellence of workmanship"

We moreover declare that the following report, advertised by Mr Albert Weber as official and with our names attached thereto viz For sympathetic pure and rich tone combined with greatest power as shown in three styles grand square and upright pianos, which show intelligence and solidity in their construction a pliant and easy touch which at the same time answers promptly to its requirements together with excellence of workmanship" has never been made sanctioned or signed by the group of Jurors certain stated qualities found in a "grand piano of large dimensions," exhibited by Mr Albert Weber were wanting in his parlor, grand, square and upright pianos

To the report advertised by Mr Weber as official the names of the group of Jurors have never been signed and if it has been so changed as advertised by him, it has been done subsequently and after the Jury had dispersed and without the authority of the group of Jurors. (Signed)

TO THE PUBLIC.

There is nothing so well calculated to put the average reader out of humor as to commence an interesting article upon some alleged scientific discovery indian war news etc etc Full of interest and just as the happy peruser's mind is thoroughly infatuated with the subject striving with great effort to grasp it in all its bearings away goes the author loud in his praise of some hair renewer balsam or other just as the OREGON BLOOD PURIFIER LIVER and KIDNEY REGULATOR can it be truthfully called a patent medicine (although we have our copyright to prevent a spurious article being placed before the public) as the following account of its origin will show

For many years past hundreds of the best citizens of the city, when troubled with dyspepsia loss of appetite, irregularities of the liver and kidneys, have called upon Mr PFUNDER at his Pharmaceutical Palace, corner Ash and First streets and requested a compound that would build their system up In each and every case there was this comparatively unknown remedy given and its results were of such satisfactory nature and so highly recommended by those who used it that the purely vegetable compound made from Oregon herbs and roots, created a large demand for itself and upon its own merits, It was then known as Pfunder's Regulator Desiring to benefit the community at large Mr Pfunder conceived the idea of placing this great Regulator before the people and what has been the result? The sale of the Oregon Blood Purifier has already been greater than that of any medicine manufactured on the Pacific Coast

You will therefore observe that this is no cheap nostrum put up to sell It has been weighed fairly in the balance and not found wanting

We deeply sympathize with the public in being so often imposed upon in purchasing many "tonics," so called, which by the large proportion of spirituous liquors used in their preparation are most injurious to the delicately formed tissues of the human stomach

The Celebrated Oregon Blood ... contains no alcoholic stimulant, (in plain language refuse whisky), as many lately discovered Oregon Bitters whose extract has been found to be an excellent and superior tonic and no serious results can follow the use of the Regulator

To Women in Pregnancy it prevents nausea and vomiting regulating the bowels and keeping the system in perfect health Many Portland ladies can testify to this

To those suffering from Scrofula disease it is a positive purifier of the blood eradicating all its case

We ask you to try a bottle of this really excellent preparation It is made in Oregon from Oregon Roots and Herbs and we will warrant benefit results from its use

A PLAIN ISSUE.

A Card to the Public

From October 27 1876 fourteen days before the close of the Centennial exhibition—when all the machinery for investigation was at hand to this day Weber has published the following figures of the Judges on pianos—given to him then and there:

ORIGINAL FIGURES

WEBER

	Judges
Tone	6	6	6	6
Equality	6	6	6	6
Quality	6	6	6	6
Touch	6	6	6	6
	24	24	24	24—96

Total—95 Out of a possible 96

Now Messrs Steinway publish fourteen months after the close of the Centennial a different set of figures on grand Piano etc They admit publicly that while all the rest of the piano manufacturers have quietly attended to their business they have traveled thousands of miles made two ocean voyages and carried on an immense correspondence covering thirteen months persuading confusing manipulating the Judges with a slightly different result.

If Messrs Steinway or their agent here will prove that the above are not the correct original figures as handed in by the judges before the close of the Exhibition we will give to the poor of Portland our check for $500 Also if Messrs Steinway or their agents at Salem, Albany The Dalles or Walla Walla will prove that their original figures were not 91 out of a possible 96 which is four less than Weber received, we will give to the poor of each of the above cities our check for $500

The fact of the matter is the Weber piano has become by far, too popular to suit the interest of that competing firm, and they now perceive that their former prestige is fading fast before the growing popularity of Mr Weber, and every possible means is being resorted to in order to crush him

Finally we would add that while it is unsafe to trust an unscrupulous concern like that of Messrs Steinway, whose questionable practices and manipulations at exhibitions have become notorious and whom we believe are capable of doing any thing except sticking to the truth yet we still have so much faith in the power of truth that we are loth to believe that even they would perjure themselves and dare to come forward and swear that Weber's figures, "95 as published throughout the world BEFORE the close of the exhibition are wrong

Does any sane man or woman believe it possible that Messrs Steinway would wait thirteen months after the close of the Centennial to correct Weber's statement of figures, when it could have been done while the commission itself was in Philadelphia in session in thirteen hours, or surely in thirteen days? NEVER.

Weber's Award signed by all the Judges, reads as follows:

For sympathetic pure and rich tone combined with greatest power as shown in three styles Grand Square and Upright Pianos which show intelligence and solidity in construction a pliant and easy touch, which at the same time answers promptly to its requirements, together with excellence of workmanship."

The above Diploma signed by every member of the Commission and Judges on Pianos can be seen at Weber's warerooms corner Fifth Avenue and 16th street New York at any time

Notwithstanding the desperate effort which is being made to injure the reputation of the only rival they are afraid of, the Weber Piano will still continue to be the favorite with the public in the concert room and the parlor

THE OMNIVOROUS PIKE

A BARRICADE OF PIKE IN THE SACRAMENTO—STRATEGIC ALIGNMENT FOR ... SMALL FRY

Sacramento special Aug 11] For several days past a complete line of pike has formed across the Sacramento river in the shadow of the bridge timbers. They will average a foot in length and they are so thick that they form from shore to shore a complete barricade to all small fry. They rest about a foot below the surface with their noses pointing up stream. The young fish come down stream and suddenly meet this immovable barrier; they hesitate a moment, are unable to turn back for long, and seeing determined to go down turn back and face their enemies. The pike then move until the small fry makes a dash through the line, but not one in a hundred escape. Some of the minnows execute a strategic movement by rising suddenly to the surface and splashing along the top of the water over the grim and voracious enemy, but such a maneuver fails ten times out of eleven, for the pike will spring clear out of the water to seize his prey. It is not generally believed that the small fry is salmon, though some hold that salmon are among them. If they are food fishes of a desirable kind the army of pike is simply exterminating them. It is suggested that one of the fish commissioners authorize the use of explosives to clean out the pike and give the small fry a chance. Boys go out in boats and scoop up the pike with some little difficulty, but the line soon forms again. It refuses hook and bait, has little fear of spear, and for four days now has kept its alignment like a brigade of soldiers. It is certainly a very strange incident.

In financial matters the first business day of the week has developed nothing important. There is about the usual volume and degree of activity in the demand for loans which is apparently met without any material pressure on the market. While the banks continue to scrutinize all paper offered them as closely as ever all that is unquestionable is readily taken at the usual rates of discount. Loans on real estate are less active than they were earlier in the season though occasionally an important transaction of this character is reported.

From the east we have no important financial news by telegraph except the disagreement among leading men concerning the circular recently issued by the director of the U S mint in regard to the uses to which the trade dollar has been put and warning the public against accepting them at more than their bullion value.

The Freight Market.

The amount of tonnage on the coast suitable for the foreign grain trade is reported as increasing and freights hence to English ports are said to be dull in San Francisco at 40s to Liverpool for wooden ships and 45s for iron ones. There are now in that port over 70 000 tons of disengaged vessels, and about 160 000 tons are en route to the same port. Add to this the vessels here and on the way here and we would have over 300 000 tons that may be relied on to carry the surplus wheat crop of this harvest year besides nearly 100,000 tons already loading, loaded, or engaged to load at the two ports. This is a more favorable prospect for shippers than average, and it seems unlikely that rates will be any higher than at present. The competition between the steamships on the route hence to San Francisco as last year will have the effect to reduce the direct trade from this port to a very material extent, hence charters to load here are not active and, considering the late ness of the season comparatively few vessels have been taken for this trade.

NO SHOES TO WEAR OUT TIRES.
No Brake Bar used. Will hold a Wagon anywhere from Backing or going Forward.

THIS NEW BRAKE NOW BEING INTRODUCED by the inventor J C Trullinger is a combination of friction gear applied to the hub of a wagon. It is simple and light yet has more strength and durability than any other wagon brake now in use. It is attached to the wagon that it is out of the way of the spring yet always reliable and at hand when required. Any teamster or mechanic can see at once its utility and effective force to hold a load on a down grade or to prevent horse backing when required. The Brake is made entirely of iron, no wooden part being necessary, as no brake bar is used, hence it does not carry mud and is not affected by wet and muddy or icy roads.

We invite critical examination as we believe its merits can be demonstrated to any party who uses or understands a wagon brake.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN

His Wonderful Success
IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL
Chronic and Difficult Diseases,
He has astonished the People of this Coast by his skillful Operations.

HE HAS TAUGHT IN HIS public and private lectures the true principles of health and life to both male and female. He has also warned them against habits that would be likely to produce disease in plain and comprehensive language. But where he has found them crushed and broken down by disease mentally and physically he has restored them to health and happiness, for it is well understood that without health there can be no happiness.

DR. BRENAN has made a specialty in the treatment of the following diseases: Catarrh, Bronchitis and all diseases of the throat and chest by an entirely new system only known to himself, Diseases of the Kidneys and Urinary Organs including Spermatorrhea, Seminal Weakness or premature loss of Manhood. In the treatment of these diseases he has made a world wide reputation by his astonishing success not only on this Coast but throughout the whole United States. Diseases of the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys as well as all diseases of the blood and skin he has become master of and never fails to give relief at once and permanently cures the case if he is applied to in time.

THE DOCTOR HAS GIVEN SPECIAL LECTURES to ladies only for years and is perfectly familiar with all female complaints and understands their delicate and refined organization as well as the proper remedies which should be used to allay their suffering and restore them to perfect health.

THE DOCTOR HAS THIS ADVANTAGE over most physicians—he can tell the patients' disease the moment he comes in contact with them without any aid from the individual. This accounts in part for his great professional success.

All surgical operations can be performed by his skillful hand, and the patient need not fear the result.

DR. BRENAN will send to those living at a distance and who can not well visit his office a list of Printed Questions and by the answers when filled out he can tell the disease as well as the proper treatment almost as well as seeing the patient personally and will forward the proper medicines, or instruments, to any part of the country with full instructions and advice. Each letter requiring advice or list of questions must contain two postage stamps.

Everything strictly confidential and honorable.

THE DOCTOR has studied in the best Medical Schools in Europe and three years in the Jefferson Medical College at Philadelphia as more than one of the Medical men of the Medical Faculty in this State can testify.

CAUTION

Persons coming to Portland, requiring medical treatment of the proper kind who desire to consult with me, will please beware of persons who may try to coax them away to other so called Doctors through pretended friendship for the patients. Look out for them; they are knaves prompted by selfish motives and what they can make. Be sure and ask for DR. PAUL M BRENAN the Medical Lecturer and read his sign on his door.
